Interesting if somewhat confusing myst-style point and click adventure game. It drops you into its world with almost no explanation as to your goal other than needing to find and help your friend. It's left to you to investigate and gather clues about what to do next, and what you should be looking for.

What's notable about all this is that the game doesn't really save the state of your progress in most cases. There is a sparse inventory system that will allow you to access more areas and solve more puzzles as time goes on, but most of the time, the only thing stopping you from progressing is your own personal knowledge, which the game will not hold your hand on. If you find something that looks like a clue, you'd better write it down for later, because the game will not write it down for you and may not even signal that what you're looking at is noteworthy. Be prepared to write a lot of things down, many of them useless red herrings.

A major problem with the game is that it is in first person, but you can only move to certain preset areas by clicking to them on the screen. These are not labeled and are often hidden, which in theory is good for puzzle gameplay, but it's often extremely unintuitive and you'll miss areas you've already tried to search for just because the hotspot is super picky. There's also some unsubtitled voice acting that's hard to understand but it's mostly at the beginning.

All in all, a decent adventure game.. i like this game,,, easy the get achivement. Enjoy the music when playing the game and I'd happily listen to it separately too. Would actually work quite well when playing other games (the Settlers 2 comes to mind, old as it is!). I absolutly love this game already. The only thing i don't like is that there aren't really many people playing this game but to try and multitask yourself out of death is quite fun.. just like the first GTA I recommend that you get it if you somehow find it somewhere and (if you don't already have that) Get a computer that can play it... Just do it... BOTH of them! They are worth it.. all dlc in this game are \u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665ing trash. The first one in my opinion was better. But this is still a masterpiece . I would play this 24/7 but my mom sends me to school. Please kill her .. Probably my favourite flight game ever. I used to love playing the demo in PC World/Comet on their best PC and showing them how it's done. I also like pretending I'm a WW2 fighter pilot.. This game is another waste of disk space.....

Pros : It can run...with my GTX1080 i still got around 60FPS....

Cons :

1. No clear instruction
2. No Clear objective
3. You can only walk and walk in a strange 3D world.....

I have deleted this so called "game" from my disk....

played this game since many years, very complex and fun transportation simulation. only downside is the documentation, which means it will cost you some time to figure out some features.... I just came to check out the game's page for laughs and then realized something... I NEVER WROTE A REVIEW FOR THE BEST GAME I'VE EVER PLAYED!

This is a 100% story driven game. There's no combat. There are no enemies to worry about. Just walk around, enjoy the AMAZING visuals, listen to the BEST soundtrack gaming has ever seen, and solve some truly great story-driven puzzles. All so that, when you finally reach the end of this grand epic and have found all the little secrets, you can enjoy the ending to one of the most heartwrenching games of all time.

This is the first game released by publisher and developer The Astronauts... and my mind is officially blown. AND IT'S IN VR (if you have the money for that sort of thing).

There, I don't have anything left to say... oh wait, yes I do. BUY THIS GAME NOW!. I Listen To This Music. My Feeling Is Well
May Be ,Feeling Is Not Good Day. Listen To This Music.
You Feeling Is Very Well.. First of all, I didn't puke, which is already deserving of recognition :D

The game has a nice atmosphere and I like that they included sound into puzzles.

It's a pleasant experience and it's free, so check it out!. I REALLY wanted to like this, but it's just poorly implemented. Encounters with the cylons just don't vary enough, they just escalate in strength. This is just a series of increasingly difficult battles, and there is no incentive to fight, just screen for the civ ships and jump asap. What this mode needs is more variation in the encounters, randomize the cylon fleet strength more while allowing it to "trend" up. Some of the things that could have been done to make this more interesting are so glaringly obvious, like an encounter with extra resources where you have to weigh the risk vs reward of fighting or fleeing. This mode is what I really wanted to see in this game, it was just done with minimal effort, and that makes me sad.. terribly excited over trying this game, love indie horror.

full graphics settings, looks brilliant, control is awesome

see a phone, answer, hide in bathroom, chairs get thrown at me but my cat like reflexes allows me to dodge...go in office get the passcode to the door

get to the door unharmed but notice some black cloud like clumps just around the corner

Face door, go to input the code, mouse will not click the buttons no matter what I do. 4.5 hours is actually afk left myself standing there, luckily these demons don't attack if you are away taking care of irl stuff...

restart, get stuck at same part, cannot input door code....

Watched walk through on youtube, Must have been fun, continued to look great throughout.. It was good. It was short though. It only took me 3 hours to get through. I wish there were more "find it" areas, but it was unique and good. And it was only 49 cents.
